Omnicell Provides The Hospital for Sick Children with Medication Automation Solutions to Promote Patient Safety

Automation Expected to Streamline Medication Delivery at Canada's Premier Children's Hospital

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Calif., Nov. 9, 2015 /PRNewswire/ -- Omnicell, Inc. (NASDAQ:OMCL) today announced that The Hospital for Sick Children (SickKids), affiliated with the University of Toronto, has selected the Company's medication automation and safety solutions. Omnicell technology is designed to help ensure the highest level of medication security and safety, and reduce operational inefficiencies in patient care. Omnicell technology is intended to efficiently distribute, store and manage inventory of medications throughout the hospital. SickKids will be installing automated medication cabinets in the patient care areas and operating rooms, as well as a system to manage controlled substances in the central pharmacy. Omnicell solutions were selected after a thorough evaluation process that included on-site demos, visits to other hospital facilities and meetings with stakeholders and hospital leaders.

SickKids is a premier pediatric care center in Canada with a 285-bed facility dedicated to continually improving care for children. The Omnicell systems were developed to help enable nurses to save time on medication management tasks, so they can spend more time interacting with patients.

"In a facility of our size, we're constantly looking for ways to streamline operations and workflows so more of our time can be devoted to our patients," said Jimmy Fung, director of pharmacy at SickKids. "We look forward to implementing this technology in our facility."

"As we continue to expand our international presence, we're pleased to add a pediatric hospital with such an impeccable reputation to the Omnicell family," shared Chris Drew, executive vice president, Sales and Marketing, Omnicell. "We are keen to support The Hospital for Sick Children's mission to improve the health of children by providing the best in family-centered care."
